

Nicola Sturgeon gives '100% assurance' on hairdressers reopening

Third Border Collie pup dies after pooping 'blood and worms' at Scots home

Heartbroken pals pay tribute to tragic young Edinburgh girl who died suddenly

Car flips over barrier and smashes into house as Scots cops race to scene

Border Collie puppy dies hours after 'breeders' drop pup off with Scots family

Club Snoods UK Made

Snoods For Golf Clubs And Courses

News ▾ Local News ▾ Uddingston

Anthem by Uddingston composer Harry Barry features in new Alex Ferguson film

European Song is centre stage in the documentary Sir Alex Ferguson: Never Give In.

By Hamilton Advertiser
12:19, 2 MAR 2021 | UPDATED 18:29, 2 MAR 2021

NEWS

(Image: Hamilton Advertiser)

ADVERTISEMENT

BETTINGtradition

THE BEST BETTING OFFERS

GET YOURS

A football anthem by an Uddingston composer is to feature in a new film about Sir Alex Ferguson.

European Song, written by the late Harry Barry, celebrated Aberdeen FC's victory in the European Cup Winners' Cup final in 1983.

Now it's back centre stage in the documentary Sir Alex Ferguson: Never Give In, which was directed by Ferguson's son Jason as the football legend recovered from a brain haemorrhage in 2018.

Harry's European Song was recorded with the Aberdeen squad including players Jim Leighton, Gordon Strachan, Alex McLeish, Willie Miller and Mark McGhee as well as winning goal scorers Eric Black and John Hewitt.

The record and sleeve. (Image: Hamilton Advertiser)

It was pressed as a 7-inch single in the Dons' trademark red and white colours and had to be reissued when initial supplies of 100,000 copies ran out, as fans queued at record stores in the Granite City.

Demand was so great that distributors drove to Wales to collect boxes of the record direct from the pressing plant.

Harry, who died suddenly in 2013, has a huge back catalogue as a writer and producer.

Aberdeen skipper Willie Miller is presented with with the European Cup Winners' Cup trophy after Aberdeen beat Real Madrid 2-1 in Gothenburg. (Image: SNS Group 0141 221 3602)

He played drums and sang on Ally's Tartan Army with the 1978 Scotland World Cup squad and wrote most of the songs on the official album.

He also wrote hundreds of songs and TV and radio jingles and songs over his 50 year career many which are still running today.

Locally he was best known for The Big Elastic Band which produced two albums and countless singles.

The late Harry Barry, of Uddingston. (Image: Hamilton Advertiser)

The debut recording When Big Roy Sang on Annie McGregor's Juke Box was inspired by an Uddingston cafe owner.

In 2010 he recorded Jimmy Shand's On the Wireless which celebrated Uddingston life in the 1950s and produced a new play called The Hauf and Half which showcased the unique language of Coatbridge.

Get the latest Lanarkshire news straight to your inbox!

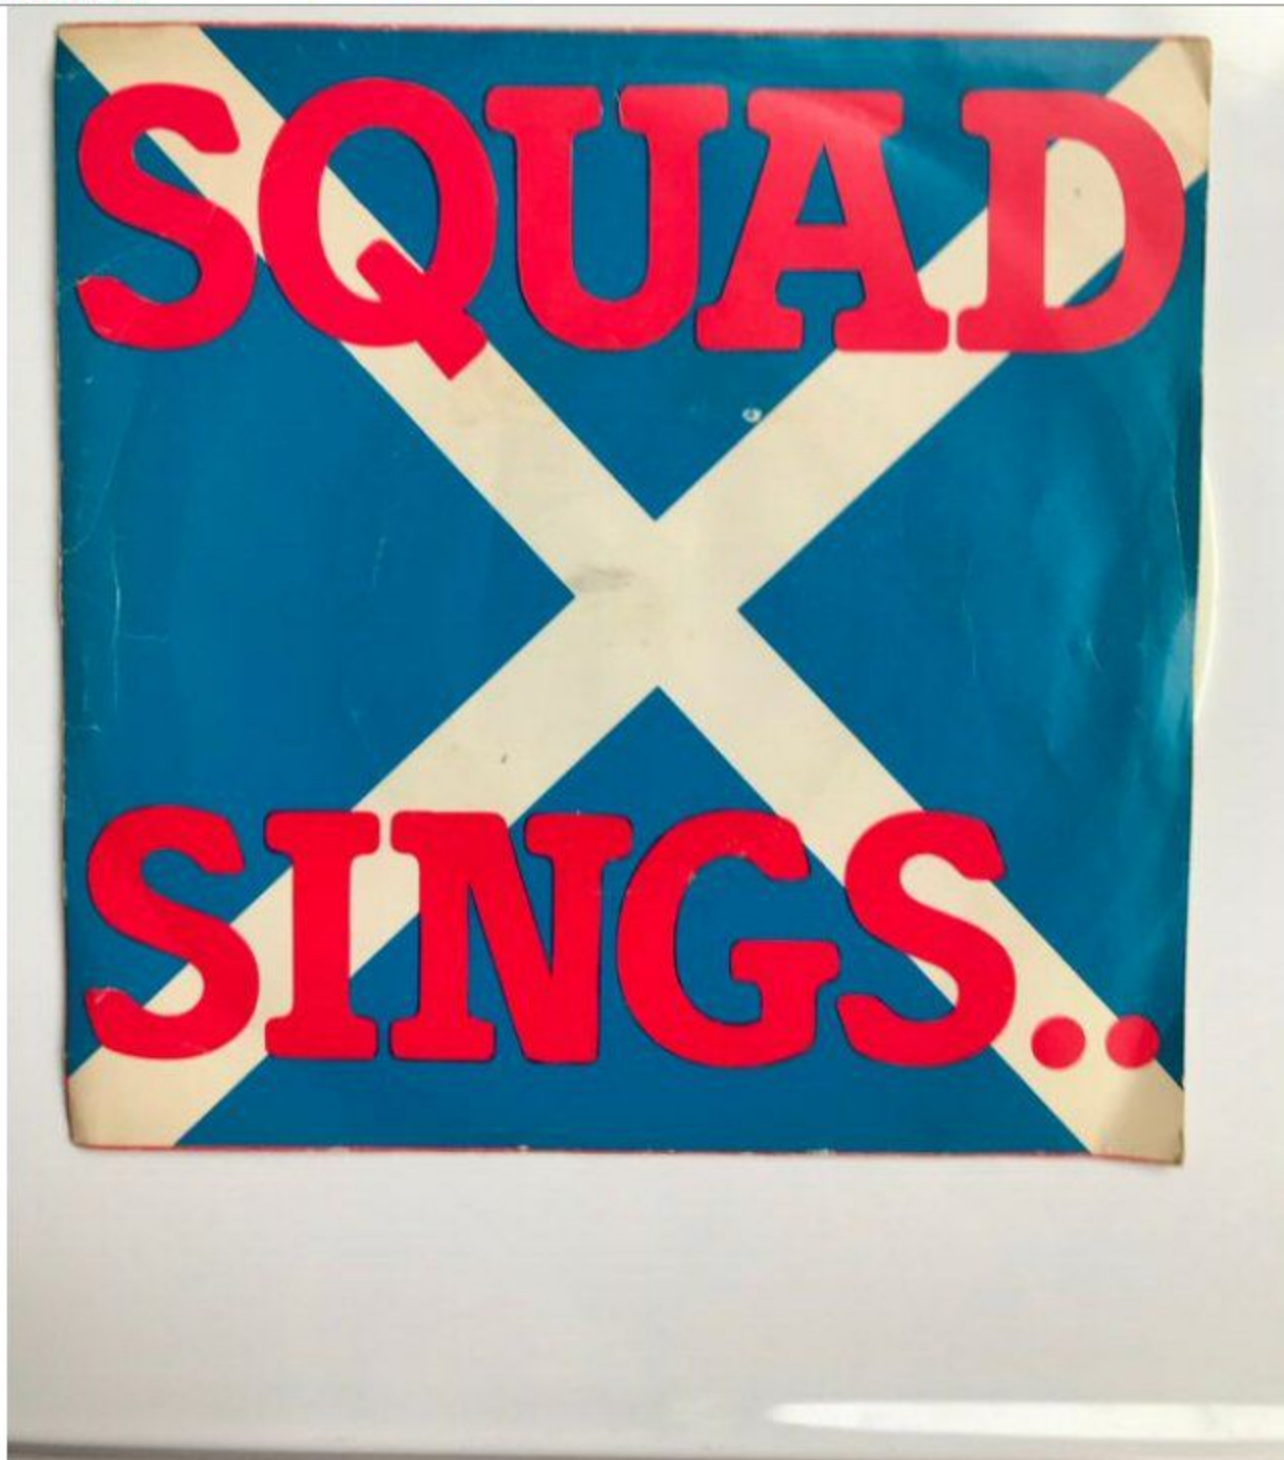

Don't miss a thing from your area - sign up for the new Lanarkshire newsletter!

From the latest breaking news to the agenda-setting stories, get it all in your email inbox.

Put your email at the top of this article or follow the instructions on this link!

The family set up the Harry Barry Prize for Music at his former school, Uddingston Grammar, in 2015. The annual award includes a trophy and professional studio time for a talented young musician.

Harry's daughter Kate, said: "We're delighted that dad's memory lives on in his music and look forward to the film. He was a talented man."

One of the records with songs by Harry Barry. (Image: Hamilton Advertiser)

Sir Alex Ferguson: Never Give In premieres at the Glasgow Film Festival on March 6.

Speaking about the documentary, Sir Alex, said: "Losing my memory was my biggest fear when I suffered the haemorrhage.

"In the making of the film I was able to revisit the most important moments of my life, good and bad.

 Sir Alex Ferguson. (Image: Getty Images)

“Having Jason direct the film has ensured an honest and intimate account.”

It's in cinemas from May 27 if restrictions are lifted and on Amazon Prime Video from May 29.

For more information on Harry or to download the track. visit his website.